Experience the past, and be inspired by a nation united.
Show us where you're from Welcome

For the second year in a row, over 18,000 people visited the Wright. The diversity of our exhibits is responsible for attracting new demographics and revitalizing members and annual visitors. We are especially proud that 20% of those visitors were students. A 2016 American Alliance of Museums (AAM) survey showed that students on museum field trips experience an increase in critical thinking skills, historical empathy and tolerance.

The AAM survey inspires all of us at the Wright to be even more focused on ensuring our exhibits reach new audiences and revitalize Museum members. To that end, in 2017 we added three new interactive touchscreens, and six pairs of audio Soundstiks that bring life to our displays by allowing visitors to “hear the American past”. These investments in our exhibits were made possible by grants from three first-time supporting foundations. We are honored that our work is increasingly being recognized by a wider audience.

A highlight of 2017 was the receipt of an anonymous gift of $1 million directed to the Museum’s endowment. This wonderful donation will provide support to the Museum in perpetuity. The Board’s investment policy permits the withdrawal of 4% of the weighted average of total endowment funds. This policy aims to preserve principle while permitting use of a portion of appreciated gains in keeping with the wishes of the donor. This gift will allow for annual ongoing support to the Museum’s operations and programs. Gifts of this nature help the Museum to build towards a sustainable future where programs and services can grow over time. We are all extremely grateful for the generosity and foresight of our donor and their desire to help us build a prosperous future for the Museum.

Mission Statement: To provide a vivid perspective on the profound and enduring impact of the World War II experience on American society.

We think of the entire Wright Museum as a “learning center”, and so we are very proud of the increase in the number of people attending our Tuesday evening educational programs. In 2017, over 1,400 attended the Goodgame-Canney Education Programs. Over the past four years, attendance has almost doubled as the number and quality of the programs have grown and the diversity of topics offered has widened.

In addition to enhancing our visitor experience, the Wright has created a national traveling exhibition of the popular Pvt. Charles J. Miller show of South Pacific paintings. We are delighted to be able to bring this collection of “national treasures” to a wider audience, and in the process introduce them to the mission of the Wright Museum.

In 2017, we said goodbye to Denis Hambucken and Mike Hashem as board members, and welcomed new member Manny Rogers. The Wright Museum has been fortunate during its almost 25-year history to be served by a dedicated and conscientious Board which has provided the leadership necessary for success.

Thank you for helping us continue to grow our audience at home and around the country, and to educate future generations of students and adults about this formative period of American history.

NATIONAL BEST-SELLING AUTHOR PATRICK O’DONNELL SAYS THE WRIGHT “uniquely captures the pulse of the American home front during the Second World War and some of that war’s toughest fighting. Immersive exhibits... presentations and speaker programs discuss a diverse range of history that bring the past alive within the community. I highly recommend this museum – one of my favorites for the time period.”
I volunteered an extra day this week—today. Very busy. 220 visitors!!! Never stopped from 11 am to 4:15pm. Very gratifying to be on the receiving end of so many compliments for our special museum.

The Wright’s “Traveling Trunk” is filled with homefront and military objects that were part of the American scene during the War Years of 1939-1945. This is an opportunity for students to see and touch history in a manner that takes them beyond books and photographs. Docents like Dan Schroeder accompany the Trunk and share stories and the history surrounding the traveling objects.

“I believe today’s visit was not only the best time I’ve had with students at the Wright Museum, it is very well the best field trip we’ve ever been on. I hope that we can continue the tradition of a Springtime DHS visit to the best history museum in New England.”

– ERIC SALMONSEN, Social Studies Department, Dover High School and Career Technical Center
